Visiting City Prime Minister Says: Some Form of World Government May Be Necessary for Peace

OTTAWA, Dec. 17.—(CP)—Some form of world government may be necessary to maintain peace in a world where the use of atomic energy is known, Prime Minister Mackenzie King said today in the Commons.

HE MADE the statement in his first public report on the recent Washington conference at which he, Prime Minister Attlee and President Truman met. Information on the use of atomic energy, he said, is now being exchanged among nations.

THE MORE deeply one ponders the problems with which our world is confronted in the light of the implications of the development of atomic energy, the harder it is to see a solution in anything short of the surrender of national sovereignty, said Mr. King.

WITH A LIMITED surrender of sovereignty, there must be instituted some form of world government restricted, at least at the present time, to the prevention of war, and the maintenance of international security.

HE BELIEVED it would be an error to contend that the use of atomic energy in commodity and police terms, as it is now, is a solution.

HE IS ACCOMPANIED by Harold McNeill, Canadian sales manager, and John Martin, director of public relations, and conferred here with J. A. Hill, manager of the company's branch in Edmonton.

Mr. Duncan said all the company's plants have been recovered to civilian production, and the company has undertaken the greatest program of capital expansion in recent years. It is just about to start operation of the most up-to-date mechanized foundry building in the country, costing more than $1,000,000, and is in the process of building a new plant for the manufacture of self-propelled combat tanks.

HE SAID ALSO that the company was in the process of moving its main plant from its old tank building, erected during the war, at Racine, Wis. This building, which covers four city blocks, will be utilized for the manufacture of tanks for world supply, Mr. Duncan stated.

IN ADDITION to the construction work millions of dollars have been expended in new machine tools, and all the expenditures are devoted to lower production costs, enable the company to meet the ever growing competition in the farm machinery industry.

U. S. Supreme Court Plans Review Case

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—(AP)—The U. S. Supreme Court today granted a stay of execution to Japanese Lt.-Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, sentenced to death by an American military commission in Manila.

THE TRIBUNAL, after a conference, after leaving the court room at the completion of its regular session for the day, the stay was taken a few minutes after arrival of an airmail petition from Yamashita, asking review of the decision by the Philippines Supreme Court in his case.

War Secretary Patterson earlier had announced that Yamashita's execution would be stayed until the Supreme Court in the Philippines had decided on his case.

THE SUPREME COURT also has under consideration petitions which Yamashita challenged the authority of the military commission to try him. He asked to be released, it is stated, in a hearing before the court or one of its justices.

The court adjourned today until Jan. 2. Attaches said they did not expect to announce its decision on the petitions before the end of the month.

State Religion Of Shintoism Ends For Japan

TOKYO, Dec. 17.—(AP)—General MacArthur today ordered state Shintoism abolished in Japan to destroy the compulsory religious ideology which his staff asserted fed the country into war and defeat.

WITH THE EXPRESSED aim of freeing people from "direct or indirect compulsion" to believe in "manufactured" religion, the Allied directive laid down a program of broad revision, calling for:

1. Purging of militaristic and ultra-nationalistic ideology from doctrine of the cult which preaches ancestor worship and deifies the emperor.
2. Removal of Shinto teachings from schools.

ALLIED OFFICERS emphasized that Sunday's action, carrying out the policy announced recently by the United States state department, involves state Shintoism but does not affect the sect of Shinto which in 1941, had an estimated 17,000,000 adherents. Nor is it an attempt they said, to dictate religious belief to the Japanese.

However, the entire population of 70,000,000 are considered members of state Shinto, including 40,000,000 Buddhists and 35,000,000 Christians.

arch of Bermuda glided into port with 3,322 passengers. Included were 2,706 army, 383 navy, 31 RAAF, and a few British army personnel and civilians.

Returning with the Queen's Own Rifles was Lt. Col. Stephen Lett who led the Third Division unit in breaking the last German resistance in the Rhine. Col. Lett described the Canadian soldiers as the "best fighting man in the world."

HE SAID the "toughest" battle his unit encountered was at Steg and Mosch where they met what was left of the German parachute army. It was here that Sgt. Aubrey Cousins, Timmins, Ont., won the Victoria Cross.

Col. Lett said he had never seen such a display of courage as Cousins showed in directing a tank through a farmhouse alive with the enemy. "He killed about 30 Germans before being killed by a sniper," Col. Lett stated.

AFTER THE BATTLE, the five remaining members of Cousins' platoon (the rest were killed) came to the colonel and requested that Cousins be recommended for the Empire's highest award.

Details of Canadian Navy Disaster Are Now Revealed

OTTAWA, Dec. 17.—(CP)—Naval headquarters today disclosed details of a series of explosions and fire among a flotilla of British and Canadian motor torpedo boats at Ostend last February in which 26 Canadians including an officer lost their lives and 19 were injured.

THE DISASTER was announced previously but no details were given at the time. Today's announcement also gave the casualty list.

Headquarters said that 12 boats of which belonged to the 29th Canadian motor torpedo boat flotilla commanded by Lt.-Cmdr. C. A. Law, DSC, of Quebec, were destroyed. Others were damaged and the blast and the spreading fire which followed. No cause was given for the explosion.

THE BOATS WERE moored in a passage inside Ostend harbor known as the Grigue and within two minutes of the explosion, most were afire. It was impossible to move the boats to safety and though some men escaped by diving overboard, many were trapped on board.

THE 29TH CANADIAN motor torpedo boat flotilla had an outstanding record. For 11 months the flotilla had fought and patrolled in the English Channel, engaging in more than a score of actions off France, Belgium and Holland. It had destroyed convoys, battled E-boats, R-boats and armed trawlers and even destroyed.

Lord Beaverbrook Withdraws Motion Opposing U.S. Loan

LONDON, Dec. 17.—(Reuters)—An amendment asking the House of Lords to reject the Anglo-American loan agreement, standing in the name of Lord Beaverbrook, has been withdrawn by its sponsor, the Press Association reported today.

Official Conservative policy was to abstain from voting either for or against the government motion, but Lord Beaverbrook followed the example of Robert Boothby and others in the House of Commons in going against his party's line in voting the amendment.

The amendment condemned the agreement as it involved subscription to the Bretton Woods agreement and hence a return to the gold standard.

Surprise Move

that a Lieut. Fred Williams and a Lieut. C. Pollard were missing from a patrol of the Normont, Dundas and Glenagry Highlands the night of July 16.

Advisors from surviving members of the patrol, which went to a point between Bruch and the Caen perimeter, said it rained in strong enemy fire and Lieut. Williams was hit.

Capt. Maurice Blaisseau of Montreal, records officer from Canadian military headquarters, testified that the body of a lieutenant, originally named Williams, was found in the Ancient Abbey, had been identified as that of Lieut. Williams.

THE PROSECUTION is seeking to prove that Lieut. Williams and Lieut. Pollard were captured and taken to the ancient abbey.

Permission for the prosecution to proceed with presentation of evidence in the new charge against Gen. Meyer centred around the question of whether Meyer was a responsible commander at the time.

In support of the argument that he was, the prosecution put forward a German lieutenant who testified that he was serving at divisional headquarters of the 12th SS from June 6 to Aug. 15 and that Meyer became divisional commander June 17 "about noon."

ANOTHER 12TH SS lieutenant said his battalion commander succeeded Meyer as commander of the 25th regiment of the 12th SS about 10 days after the invasion.

June 6, but he could not say precisely whether it was June 16 or 17. After the testimony of the German lieutenant, the line to which the prosecution "I think we are entitled to proceed with your evidence."

The exact nature of the charge was not immediately available.

EARLIER TODAY, as the trial entered its second week, it was known that the Fins wanted East Karelia but the Kola peninsula would go to Germany because of its large nickel mines.

GERMAN PLANS were that in this year of war Russia and other conquered eastern territory should provide two-thirds of the food for the German army, and France one-third.

Hitler laid down a long range plan for the conquest of Russia, that nobody but Germans should bear arms anywhere between Germany and the Ural mountains, deep in Russia.

British Lord Justice Sir Geoffrey Lawrence announced when the session opened that press interviews with the defendants, apparently obtained through their counsel, will be forbidden hereafter.

THE TRIBUNAL considers it necessary to state with the greatest emphasis that this is a procedure which cannot and will not be continued," he said. It was understood that the Russians have objected strongly to the interviews, which they considered propaganda channels for the defendants.

The tribunal announced that if any defendant takes the stand in his own defence, he can be questioned by other defendants.

R. I. C. Picard, whose appointment as secretary of The Royal Bank of Canada is announced.

Windsor of the St. Lawrence, Quebec, later shot by the Germans in the ancient abbey of Anse in Normandy—was struck by his captors during interrogation following his capture July 6, 1944.

An affidavit by Pic. Marcel J. Dagenais of Montreal, a crew member of Windsor's tank which had been abandoned after heavy shelling, and his lieutenant were searched by three German privates and a young sergeant-major.

AFTER WINDSOR gave his rank, there were some other words by the Germans and the sergeant slapped the lieutenant, Dagenais said.

An affidavit by Lieut. Ian A. MacLean of Montreal, captured about the same time and taken to the Abbey, said that when officers' paybooks and documents were returned the next day they included Windsor's, but Windsor was missing.

Dagenais said he never saw Windsor after the incident at the Abbey. He described how he himself had been questioned at Caen about a 17-pound gun on the Sherbrooke Sherman tanks.

HE ALSO RELATED that when he was being taken from the place of capture to the Abbey he saw "several German soldiers shoot and kill several of our soldiers who were wounded and could not walk."

Meyer is charged before a Canadian military court with direct or indirect responsibility for the shooting of 48 Canadian prisoners of war during the fire fighting in Caen beachhead area in June, 1944.

Adolf Hitler's headquarters had announced that Möhlert was shot down by a Canadian fire in 1943.

German radio broadcasts had said Prien was lost on a submarine mission.

Big 3 Foreign Ministers Open Parley Today

By HENRY SHAPIRO

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin MOSCOW, Dec. 17.—(BUP)—The Big Three foreign ministers will all descend around the green baize table in Spiridonovka palace today for their first blunt talk about the atom bomb.

The session begins at 4 p.m. It will be the second meeting of secretary of state James Byrnes and foreign minister Ernest Bevin with Soviet minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov since their week-end arrival.

BEVIN TOLD a press conference that the atomic bomb question will be discussed on a "polite basis." This implies that the conferees will not discuss scientific details, and that the whole question is being raised with the Russians for the first time. He pointed out that the British delegation did not include an atomic expert.

Late Sunday afternoon the three men held a brief, friendly discussion to settle procedure and such administrative details for their talks, which will continue about two weeks.

They adjourned at 7:30 p.m. so Byrnes and Bevin could dine to rest and respect the custom of the Soviet Union.

THE ATMOSPHERE of the first meeting was described as extremely cordial. After the business session, the delegates repaired to an adjacent dining hall where Molotov treated them in a sumptuous buffet.

Molotov ordered for his first Byrnes and Bevin's vodka glasses and exchanged gifts with them.

Drop Weight to Fight Fire

A high crane drops a 2-ton weight on the blazing docks at Long Beach, Calif., to knock a hole which will enable firemen to get through with hoses. Fireboat, right, squirts water into flames while other endangered ships lie in the background.

Saw Owl Lift 20-Pound Dog

William Scattergood, Jr., who farms near the marshlands at Oshawa, Ont., does not agree with the view that the snowy owl is harmless for he has seen one pick up a 20-pound fox terrier and lift it four feet in the air. When he and his brother shouted and scared the bird, it dropped the dog. "I wouldn't shoot these owls if I didn't think they were causing widespread destruction", he said. His father, a deputy game warden for 30 years, agreed, and then went on to say: "I have never seen them so plentiful as in the last few years. At the same time, our ducks and pheasants have decreased terribly. We have found tracks, almost every day, of mink, ducks and muskrats killed by owls. With the exception of one, which we shot three days ago, all have been snowy owls."

Lady Barber Runs Delicatessen

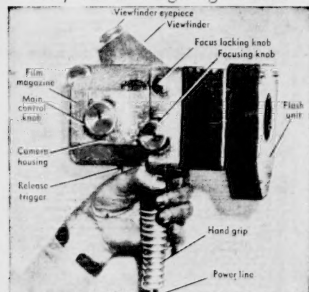

There's only one barber in the town of Temagami, Ont.—A woman. Celina Boucher gives haircuts and shaves to 300 men. But no shampoos, for there is no running water. Mrs. Boucher's barber chair is half way through her delicatessen. She has the clipper market cornered for 20 miles and she's hoping for the same with hamburgers. She is doing so well with her male clientele she's considering becoming a hairdresser. "But while I'm away studying," she said, "the men might suffer."

Army Has Self-Lighting Camera

Many a wounded or ill soldier owes his recovery to the newly-revealed Army "secret weapon" pictured above. It is a revolutionary surgical camera with a built-in light source—a quartz vapor tube flash unit that produces up to 50,000 flashes more brilliant than sunlight at 1-25,000th of a second duration. Developed by the Signal Corps, the camera uses 35-mm. film, weighs 5 1/2 pounds and is operated from a 27-pound portable pack that may be plugged into any ordinary current line.

Has 400 Bear Skins to Credit

Tom Roberts of Haliburton, Ont., is known far and wide as the "Big Bear Man of the Highlands of Ontario." He can well claim the title because of the fact he has over 400 bear hides, most of them now floor rugs in various parts of the world, to his credit. Tom will celebrate his 75th birthday in May, 1946, and is today hale and hearty in every sense of the word, with keen eyesight and every inch a man of the woods. "I have given bearskins to my friends. You will find them in New York, Buffalo, Chicago, also many towns and cities in Canada," he stated. Mr. Roberts reports he shot three 200-pound bears last spring, some 200 yards from a farmer's fence, three others on a public highway, 100 yards distant, and three others in a small bush.

Half a Home Sweet Home

With half of her home condemned and torn down by village authorities for street widening, Mrs. Clara Casprey, of Silver Lake, Minn., still clings to the other portion. Village officials said the 44-year-old widow, crippled by arthritis, had turned down an offer of $800 plus an agreement to move the house back onto the lot and build a basement underneath.

Service was restored at 10:45 a.m. It was announced by William Harkness, superintendent of electric light and power department.

- On the basis of information from our Field Forces, we recommended La Salle at 18c two weeks ago.
- We knew that La Salle had spent over $250,000.00 (adjoining Discovery) and that La Salle's development programme had established the presence of gold positions of importance over a length of 3600 feet.
- Over 40 drill holes have established the continuity of this gold-bearing area.
- A new zone in the area adjoining Discovery Yellowknife was recently opened up.
- The values were of sufficient importance to sink three test pits, which gave the following bulk samples: $63.70, $880.30 and $44.45. These test pits were sunk along a hundred-foot area, with the veins widening at depth.
- The company is well financed to carry on its development programme and it is our considered opinion that this stock is greatly undervalued at the present market (56 bid—offered at 40). After seeing a copy of our prospectus

Senate Passes Bill Granting Salary Raise

OTTAWA, Dec. 17.—(CP)—The senate, by a vote of 20-11, Saturday approved a bill authorizing a $2,000 increase to $6,000 in the seasonal indemnity of members of both chambers of parliament.

THE VOTE WAS CALLED after two hours of debate which heard numerous senators' criticism of the tax-exemption for members of the commons. All speakers thought the increase in itself was justified. This vote was asked on third reading by Senator Arthur J. (L.-Ontario).

At 11:11 he opposed the bill were Liberal: The Hon. J. A. Buchanan, James M. (L.-Ontario), Arthur Hardy (L.-Ontario), T. A. Cress (L.-Manitoba), E. B. Boudreau (L.-Quebec), Norman Patterson (L.-Ontario), Peter Campbell (L.-Ontario), Norman Lambert (L.-Ontario), Neil McLean (L.-New Brunswick), G. G. McGeen (L.-British Columbia) and F. W. Price (L.-New Brunswick).

THE INCREASE PROVIDED a tax-free $200 for members of the Commons and a taxed $2,000 for cabinet members, leader of the official opposition and senators. It was approved Friday by the Commons.

Senator T. A. Cress (L.-Manitoba) said the senate had responsibility for all legislation. It was not its job to take on the Commons' act.

THE "UNFORTUNATE" controversy, leading up to the bill, resulted from government failure to recognize certain facts. Before the original resolution, calling only for an increase for the Commons—had been placed on the Commons' order paper, Nov. 43 there should have been consultation with the senate. That resolution would have been "overwhelmingly defeated" in the senate because of its "discrimination" and because of the tax-exemption.

CRITICISM of the senate as a "senatorial" "venue" for "abuse of power" and "abuse of power" was made without it. Further, Confederation could not be maintained without it.

Humiliation "Too Much"

Japan Prince Ends Own Life Rather Than Face U.S. Trial

By RUSSELL BRINES

TOKYO, Dec. 17.—(AP)—Prince Fumimaro Konoye, 54, three times premier of Japan, committed suicide by poison yesterday to escape trial as a war criminal.

JOSEPH R. KEENE, special prosecutor of the top war crimes cases, issued a statement telling the Japanese people there is nothing to fear from American justice if they are innocent and their consciences clear.

A written statement in which Konoye rejected the "humiliation" of facing trial was disclosed several hours after Prince Konoye found his body on his bedroom floor at 6 a.m. The statement accepted responsibility for the China conflict but defended Konoye's part in the Japanese pact and the preludes to the Pacific war.

KONoye was named as a war criminal suspect Dec. 8 and was instructed to surrender at Sugawara prison by midnight last night.

Saturday night he gave a dinner for close friends and relatives at his lavish suburban home, talking with them for several hours afterward. They reported him "normal" when he party broke up about 11:30 p.m.

REFERRING directly to the suicide, Prosecutor Keene said: "No person confined as a suspect need

The ROAD AHEAD

By Capt. HARPER PROWSE, M.L.A.

THIS column is written especially for all those who have the unpleasant task of deciding what employees will be free to spend Christmas with their families and which ones will have to keep the pumps going, the whole turning and essential services operating. It is a request on behalf of those who may be a little backward about speaking for themselves.

There will be in Canada this Christmas more than 150,000 men who have not spent Christmas with their families for years—some of them for six years. They are the men who have been returned from overseas and discharged from the three services—navy, army and air force. It is I believe, only fair, that every effort should be made to insure that each and every one of them gets a chance to have the Christmas he has waited for so long with his family and friends.

I Saw Today

MOST OF THESE MEN have by now found themselves jobs. Most of them will be the junior employees of the firms or business houses they work for. The usual practice is to give to the junior members and employees the "dirty jobs"—like working on Christmas

Tractor Crashes Main Gas Pipeline to City

ADULT FORMER members of the armed services attended the meeting which was held the chairmanship of Mrs. Helen Stewart.

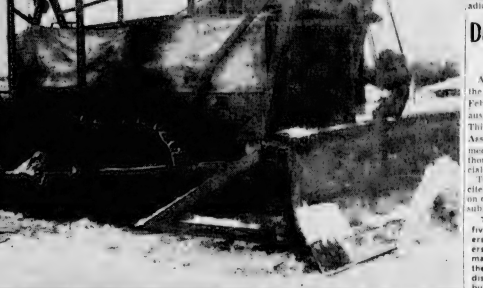

Mrs. Nellie Grant, a former member of the U.M.W. Women's Division, was named vice-president while the following from the executive committee: Geraldine Hobbs, Mary Brown, Naama Groves, Betty Smith, Helen Stewart and Violet Thompson.

MEETINGS of the new division will be held on the second Sunday of each month in the Memorial Hall, starting at 2 p.m.

Those who have been released on honorable discharge from the Canadian forces are eligible for membership.

PRESIDENT S. CARL Hochstetler of the Provincial Council of the Legion, addressed the meeting briefly. He congratulated those present on their initiative and explained the aims and objectives of the Legion as outlined in the constitution.

He said the Legion has great opportunities for service to King and Country for every former war man member of the service forces. He noted there are already twenty-five divisions of the Legion in Calgary, Vancouver and other Canadian centres.

The 27 inch rip in the gas line which caused the explosion was caused by the tractor.

The tractor was driven by F. G. Imier, Tofield, transmission superintendent for the Northwestern Utilities Ltd. It will be noted how the force of the escaping gas at more than 150 pounds pressure curved back the quarter-inch steel of the pipe. Inset, upper right, is O. N. Wolfe, Evansburg, driver of the fifteen ton brush cutter which did the damage, and below is shown the heavy tractor itself.

and volunteer helpers took vigorous action to insure that safety precautions were observed.

Service in the Cider district was renewed at about 3 p.m. and in Jasper Place at 4:15 p.m.

During the period that the gas was shut off the mercury dipped in an official loss of 7 degrees below zero, but no reports have been received on any particular case of suffering from the cold.

THE INTERRUPTION to the gas service came when a 15-ton brush cutting tractor driven by O. N. Wolfe, Evansburg, which had been found in the direction of Edmonton along the Cooking Lake trail, went to get out of the ditch, along which it had been travelling.

The end of the heavy machine tipped a 27-inch gas line in the gas line then carrying more than 150 pounds pressure, which at this point is barely beneath the surface of the ground.

"There was a terrible bang and a loud roar," said Mrs. J. S. Anderson, who was blown right off her feet when the canvas cover over the engine of the machine actually flung into the air.

Wolfe said he was more frightened than he had ever been in the army, when he left about a month ago. He had served in Europe with the Royal Canadian Regiment, but could recall no experience more startling than the Sunday incident.

Wolfe operates the powerful power-lawmower for the city's own Construction Company, and had been engaged in brush clearing operations in the district.

THE EDMONTON office of Northwestern Utilities was notified immediately by Mrs. Anderson and also by Mrs. W. J. Gibson who had been then on a truck in the corner where the break occurred.

"My family and I were seated about the time when we heard this loud bang, followed by a roar," said Mrs. Gibson, who was seated next to Wolfe in the brush cutter.

THE EDMONTON office of Northwestern Utilities was notified immediately by Mrs. Anderson and also by Mrs. W. J. Gibson who had been then on a truck in the corner where the break occurred.

"My family and I were seated about the time when we heard this loud bang, followed by a roar," said Mrs. Gibson, who was seated next to Wolfe in the brush cutter.

Wolfe said he was more frightened than he had ever been in the army, when he left about a month ago. He had served in Europe with the Royal Canadian Regiment, but could recall no experience more startling than the Sunday incident.

Wolfe operates the powerful power-lawmower for the city's own Construction Company, and had been engaged in brush clearing operations in the district.

Prospector Tells How He "Sat" on Atom

Malcolm Campbell, veteran northern prospector, stood guard for two years over sufficient atomic energy to "blow up" the world and perhaps even make quite a mess of the whole universe but Campbell had no idea of the terrific lethal potential he guarded.

AT THE ROYAL George hotel, Campbell recently recalled with something akin to mystic awe how he had been night watchman for two years on the Northern Transportation Co. docks at Fort Smith, North West Territories, while thousands of sacks of uranium ore were being shipped from Eldorado Mines, Great Bear Lake, east to Port Hope. It was from those innocent-looking sacks bombs were fashioned (that wiped out the Japanese cities of Hiroshima and Nagasaki).

At one time there were 12,000 sacks of uranium concentrates piled up at the Smith-Fitzgerald portage during 1944. There was also a lot of west through in 1945, Mr. Campbell recalled.

None of us who worked around the dock had any idea what was going on down in the States. We thought the uranium was still being used chiefly for the radium content. It was more frightening of the dynamite and oil stored on the dock than of the uranium ore, the former guard declared.

Campbell said it had really given him a great thrill to learn the story of the atomic bomb, knowing that he had guarded the vital material from which the bombs were fashioned.

He often tremble now when I think how easy it would have been for enemy agents to sabotage the shipments.

"With thousands moving to and from the north in connection with the Alaska highway and Canal project it seems to me it would have been comparatively easy for enemy agents to have started a bad fire. But the secret of the bomb was so well kept that the enemy was as much in the dark as we were at what the ore was being put.

"YES, THE GERMANS or the Japs could have struck a great blow.

was reached as a mass meeting in the Windsor market building.

The ballots are to bear the question: "Do you favor the government plan to end the strike?" There will be a space for a "yes" or "no" answer.

The plan on which the union men will vote is the formula put forward

Nov. 27 by Federal Labor Minister Mitchell and Ontario Labor Minister Daley. It was rejected by a vote of 5,000 union members, but 3,500 other union men did not vote. Union officials said 52 per cent then were opposed.

Following the Nov. 27 vote, officials arose which finally led to the decision to take a second ballot. It was charged that not all the union members who wished to vote could crowd into the Windsor arena at which the vote was taken.

SUPPORTERS of the proposal for a second ballot predict that a larger number of members will take part in this week's balloting.

Ford Strikers Will Take Vote On Settlement

WINDSOR, Ont. Dec. 17—(CP)—About 5,000 members of Local 20 of the United Automobile Workers of America (CIO) yesterday voted to take a second ballot on a government-sponsored plan for settlement of the 86-day-old union security strike at the Ford Motor Company of Canada plant.

Balloting will take place Tuesday and Wednesday between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m. Results of the vote are expected to be known about 31 p.m. Wednesday.

The men will vote at union headquarters and at sub-offices near the strikebound plants where picket lines maintain 24-hour headquarters serving coffee and sandwiches. Decision to take the second ballot

First Time Since 1938 Near-Normal Liquor Ration Eases Christmas Shortage

By TIM DICKSON

This Christmas may not equal the rousing Yuletide celebration which brimming cut and wassail bowl featured in old prints, but it should come close because for their first peacetime Christmas since 1938 Canadians have adequate stocks of liquor.

MOST PROVINCES have either increased or eliminated rations, and the Christmas rush already is under way in liquor stores across Canada. A prescription-plus-permit system this year facilitates the legal purchase of liquor in previously "dry" Prince Edward Island.

Queues have appeared in Winnipeg and Vancouver, and in the coast city extra police kept crowds in order as Christmas liquor went on sale.

IN PROVINCES where rations were boosted to take care of the extra holiday demand, liquor purchasers took added cheer from word that the increase will remain in effect after the Christmas tree is consigned to the ash heap.

Most plentiful potables are rum and gin. Whisky supplies are less abundant, imported Scotch hard to find, but, in general, beer, ale and domestic wines are available in quantities considered "adequate."

THE ONTARIO monthly ration allows four 25-ounce bottles of Scotch, rye or gin, but only two bottles may be imported Scotch. Ontario residents may also buy 24 pints of beer a month. Wine drinkers are entitled to two 25-ounce bottles of imported wine each month and to one bottle of domestic wine a week.

W. R. Clubb, chairman of the Manitoba Liquor Control Commission, under increased ration privileges, anyone willing to forego whisky may buy four 25-ounce bottles of gin or three bottles of gin and one of rum, brandy or liqueur. If whisky is purchased, the ration is the same as the regular quota which allows 32 ounces of hard liquor, of which only 26 may be whisky.

Vancouver police were needed to control lineups at the Christmas rush started at stores and permit depots. Shelves are well stocked with rye, gin and wines, but rum and Scotch are scarce. Vendors have good stocks of beer and ale, with eastern ale predominating.

VICTORIA LIQUOR stores have enough liquor on hand to supply local demand and so far crowds have been of normal size.

British Columbia's December ration is in three categories:

1. One bottle of spirits (Scotch, rye, rum or brandy) plus two bottles of gin and one dozen pints of ale; or, instead of ale, one bottle of Australian sherry if in stock.
2. One gallon of Canadian wine, or two bottles of imported wine, plus two bottles of gin and 12 pints of ale; or, instead of ale, one bottle of Australian sherry if available.
3. Four dozen pints of beer plus two bottles of gin and one dozen pints of ale; or, in lieu of ale, one bottle of Australian sherry if available.

VICTORIA DEALERS report residents of that city bought their Christmas stock early.

Supplies were said normal for the holiday season in Nova Scotia, where the ration is two quarts of rum or whisky or four quarts of gin; or three dozen quarts of beer monthly. New Brunswick can get unlimited quantities of gin and rum, plus two quarts of whisky, four bottles of wine and 24 quarts of beer monthly.

A RECENT AMENDMENT to Prince Edward Island's laws permits residents to buy weekly one quart of whisky, rum or gin, or else a case of beer, or two quarts of wine. Prince Edward Island's long dry spell ended last September. A prescription may be purchased from a doctor from 81 and then a permit can be obtained for 25 cents, both prescription and permit are good for six months.

In Quebec liquor commission officials said there was enough unrationed rum and gin to meet all demands. Domestic wines are also unrationed and plentiful. Imported wines are in small supply and beer also unrationed, it reported in short supply.

Russians Open War Crimes Trial Before Tribunal

MOSCOW, Dec. 17—(AP)—The Russians opened their own domestic war crimes trial in Smolensk Saturday when 16 Germans were arraigned before a military tribunal charged with atrocities during the occupation.

The indictment charges them with participating in the killing of more than 135,000 Soviet citizens, looting and destroying industrial enterprises and houses, experimenting on Russian captives and draining blood from children for transfusions to German soldiers.

A dispatch to Leningrad said all the accused were of low rank, setting under orders from staff unimportant Gen. Von Schenkendorf, who was turned over under directives of the German high command.

Christmas 1945

THIS is a special kind of Christmas—the first in seven years without the darkness of war.

At last we are free to celebrate the season in the old-time way.

Our loved ones are home. The candles will gleam brighter now, the balsam boughs will breathe a more pungent fragrance, and more sweetly than ever will carols ring . . . as if in answer to a world's prayers for peace.

But none will forget—now or ever—those fallen sons who sacrificed their lives that we might know the joy of Christmas again.

In their honour and to their glory we worship at home and shrine. And in our hearts shall we resolve to do those things which keep us strong and in the right—the best way of all to banish war forever.

In this, we shall be men who think of tomorrow—men of good will, making sure of ever better Christmases to come.
